

Market Prowler Premium Indicator Terms Of Service

By purchasing a premium indicator you acknowledge that you will not share the indicator nor the price chart information that it provides with anyone who has not purchased this indicator from Market Prowler. You will not post this indicator or the information it provides to any forums, message boards, or any public communications network. If we find that you have broken the terms outlined above, you will stop receiving updated copies of the indicator.

You understand that this indicator is meant to work with the ThinkOrSwim platform. Due to the fact that the code from this indicator can be viewed and copied after purchase, no refunds will be given once a purchase is made and the software is delivered. If you use a different trading platform other than ThinkOrSwim (TOS) and purchase this indicator, no refund will be given, as you will have received proprietary code, as well as been warned in advance that this indicator is for TOS only.
